SINGOLA ANNOUNCES HIRING OF SENIOR CONSULTANT, ALLYSON DOCTOR

February 16, 2017

Singola Consulting is excited to announce Allyson Doctor has joined the company as a Senior Consultant, adding over 15 years of leadership and operations experience to the team.

Allyson's focus on health communication, contact center leadership, strategic business development and government relations will help Singola continue to provide best-in-class service to its healthcare clientele across the country. She also brings an in-depth knowledge of telehealth operations and solutions, which will help Singola's clients expand access and self-service opportunities for their patients.

"We are excited to have Allyson on the Singola team," said A.J. Melaragno, the company's President. "Her knowledge, skills and leadership will be an immediate asset for all of our clients."

Allyson joins Singola from Carolinas HealthCare System in Charlotte, North Carolina. Allyson served as the Assistant Vice President of Outreach Development and Coordination and managed TeleHealth Solutions, a patient navigation center providing virtual coordination of care.

Allyson holds a M.S. in Health Communication from Boston University and currently resides in Vail, Colorado.
